

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The Mohawk Inn & Conference Centre and Mohawk Chop House will be closing their doors before the end of the year, but not for good.

- The Mohawk Inn & Conference Centre (and Mohawk Chop House) will be closing 15 December 2019
- The Mohawk Inn & Conference Centre will be rebuilt into a new Hotel and Conference centre with upgraded amenities
- The Mohawk Inn & Conference Centre has NOT been sold, it is still independently owned by local residents, Shawn & Bridget Saulnier.

CAMPBELLVILLE, MILTON ON - Nov 13, 2019 Mohawk Inn & Conference Centre has been a favourite meeting place since 1967. The Inn has 30 guest rooms with an attached banquet hall that is commonly used for weddings, trade shows and events and has been the home of a favourite local bar and restaurant, the Mohawk Chop House.

The property owned by Shawn and Bridget Saulnier is being closed in preparation for improvements to better serve the community and surrounding area effective December 15, 2019 and will no longer be accepting reservations past that date. All hotel and event bookings prior to December 15 will not be affected.

The Mohawk Inn & Conference Centre has been a hub to the Campbellville community over the last 5 decades, and a favourite destination for locals and out-of-towners alike.

“A few things have changed over the years, but the mission remains the same – to maintain and enhance our service to the local community,” states Shawn Saulnier. “The Mohawk Inn is in a great location and it’s time for the facility to be upgraded. To do this properly, we have decided to cease operations of the current facility, allowing us to make way to build a bigger and better hotel along with a conference centre and upgraded amenities.”

Located in the hamlet of Campbellville, the Mohawk Inn was established as an early-Canadian colonial style Inn. Its objective was simple: to provide comfort and a restful atmosphere in which guests could relax and enjoy themselves.

“It has been our pleasure serving the community over the years and please stay tuned in 2020 for updates,” says Bridget Saulnier. “We will be back with an enhanced facility worthy of the community.”

The Mohawk Inn and Conference Centre will remain open for event and room bookings until the closing date. Business will run as usual.

The Mohawk Chop House operates under the Egger Hospitality Group and will stay open until December 15, 2019. Egger Hospitality Group has additional Chop House locations in Wellesley – Nith River Chop House, Drayton – Drayton Chop House, Fergus – Breadalbane Inn. For additional information on restaurant locations, please visit www.eggerhospitality.com.

Before operations come to a close, the community is invited to the Inn as we host a Festive Farewell community event on December 15 after the Campbellville Santa Claus Parade from 4pm-7pm for a final cheer to the old space, with special guests and entertainment. Come and share your memories and mingle with the community one last time before we close. More details will be announced in the coming weeks.

“We are grateful to the guests and community for their patronage of the Mohawk Inn over the years, and we look forward to building a new and improved facility,” says Bridget Saulnier. “The community has been so good to us and we want to take the opportunity to thank everyone and bid a fond farewell to the past as we prepare for the future.”
